

JD Hopper

Entrepreneur | Public Speaker | Educator

JD serves as President of Queen City Toastmasters, a public speaking organization that has grown under his leadership into the largest public speaking club in the Carolinas, with more than 70 active members. During his presidency, the club achieved perfect competitive success, winning both the District Impromptu and International Prepared Speaking Championships.

He is also the founder of Purpose Tutoring, a national tutoring company with a growing team of employees. As an entrepreneur, leader, and speaker, JD draws from real experience to deliver powerful messages on leadership, purpose, collaboration, action, and discovering what makes you exceptional, then cultivating it fully. He is a compelling motivational speaker for workplaces, conferences, organizations, and audiences ready to be challenged, inspired, and moved to act.
